UNPRECEDENTED IMMIGRATION. THE NUMBER OF ARRIVALS THIS YEAR-NATIONALI-TIES OF THE IMMIGRANTS-THEIR DESTINA TIONS.

TIES OF THE IMMIGRANTS—THEIR DESTINATIONS.

Although there has been a decrease in immigration in the last ten days of fully 30 per cent, as compared with the first ten days of June, the total arrivals for the month were 61,643, an increase over June, 1880, of 19,616. The total arrivals since January 1 have been 243,925, as compared with 177,343 in the same period last year. The record of the nationalities represented by the arrivals up to June 30 is as follows: Germany, 24,142; Ireland, 7,771; Sweden, 7,299; England, 5,630; Austria, 3,300; Norway, 2,395; Scotland, 2,067; Switzerland, 1,405; Italy, 1,239; Denmark, 1,159; Holland, 1,135; Poland, 621; Russia, 604; Bohemia, 515; France, 360; Hungary, 305; Belgium, 136; Wales, 84; Spain, 27; other countries, 63.

From January 1 to the present time, employment has been procured through the Labor Bureau at Castle Garden, for 24,657 imaigrants—18,962 being men and boys and 5,965 women and girls. Of the men, 2,611 were skilled operatives, as were also 114 women. Among the employed were 860 families, comprising 2,620 persons. Among the German immigrants in Jine were technologists, civil engineers, mechanical engineers, machinists and carpenters. Many of the Swedes also are skilled workmen, but the Irish are mostly common laborers. The laborer who comes to this country readily obtains $2 a day in the West. Agents are now here from Colorado to obtain 500 farm laborers with the promise of plenty of work and good wages. The demand for farm and other laborers is greater than ever before, farm owners feeling that as they now obtain better prices for their products and are otherwise presperous they can afford to employ more labor. Fully 50 per cent of the German immigration will settle West of the Mississippi River.

Great efforts are being made by Jay Gould and others interested in Texas railways to encourage immigration to Texas, Circulars have been issued to the ocean steamship lines and booking agents, both here and in Europe, authorizing the selling of tickets to immigrant

STREET CLEANING QUESTIONS.

STREET CLEANING QUESTIONS.

It was nearly noon yesterday before the investigation of the charges against the Police Commissioners was resumed before the Mayor. Captain Williams recapitulated considerable of the testimony heretofore given by him. The principal reason why the streets were not kept clean, he said, was the small appropriation. The amount applicable for street cleaning purposes was about $1,500 a day. There should have been $2,000 or $2,200. At the afternoon session Corporation Attorney William A. Boyd was on the witness stand. A long list of complaints, several thousand in number, made by the police against persons for violation of corporation ordinances, was shown him, and he was asked if he had taken any action concerning them. He replied that he had not. He said that his time was valuable, and he asked to be excused from further examination. The Mayor suggested that as the disposition of the cases was noted on the schedules, Mr. Boyd's examination could be considerably abbreviated. Mr. Root remarked with some asperity:

"My time is as valuable as that of the Mayor or Mr. Boyd. No one can be more tired or disgusted with this case than I am. But I deem that my duty to my clients demands that these cases shall be closely examined, and I propose to do it."

After further discussion it was decided to continue the investigation at 11 a. m. to-day.

HELD TO THE TERMS OF A CONTRACT.

Fowler Brothers closed a June contract about three weeks ago for 2,000 tierces of choice lard stearine at 12 cents with W. H. Popham & Co., who afterward transferred one-half of the contract, 1,000 tierces, to W. V. Macfarlane & Co., and the other half to Richard Arnold, The price rose to 13½ cents, and W. V. Macfarlane & Co., offered $3,250 to Richard Arnold for his part of the contract. The offer was accepted. Fowler Brothers, who had a large stock, of winter-pressed stearine in store at Chicago, then made a delivery to W. V. Macfarlane & Co., which was refused on the ground that all summer contracts call for "choice summerpressed stearine."

The matter was submitted to arbitration. The

that all summer contracts call for "choice summerpressed stearine."

The matter was submitted to arbitration. The arbitrators decided that Fowler Brothers must tender upon the contract "choice summer-pressed stearine," in lots of 250 tierces in June, but that the decision of the arbitrators should not prevent Fowler Brothers from holding Popham & Co. responsible in case Macfarlane & Co. should fail to receive the stearine. Under the rules of the Produce Exchange, Macfarlane & Co. bought in 1,000 tierces at about 14 cents. The price immediately advanced to 17 cents, but Fowler Brothers still held off. They officred 250 tierces in addition Thursday, which were rejected because of the quality. Afterward an attempt was made to "bear" the market by Fowler Brothers, who offered 100 tierces at 14½ cents, which were at once taken, and bids were made up to 20 cents, at which the market closed.

Macfarlane & Co. now claim a difference of about $56,000, which Fowler Brothers decline to allow,
They threaten to carry the matter into the courts.

DEATH FROM EATING POISONOUS PIE.

Mary Naess, the wife of Bernard Naess, a Norwegian tailor, who recently arrived in this city on his way to Minneapolis, died Thursday in the Emigrant Hospital on Ward's Island from gastritis. A pie which she ate is supposed to have contained poison, as not only Mrs. Naess, but two other patients as well, who had eaten of it, were taken ill immediately afterward. The pie had been carried to the hospital by Bernard Naess, who was arrested in Brooklyn Thursday night by Deputy Coroner Waterman. Coroner Herrman examined him yesterday, and became convinced that he was innocent of any intent to poison his wife. It was shown that they had been married only two months and lived together happily. Naess was discharged. It was ascertained that the pie had been purchased at a grocer's at Smith and State-sts., Brooklyn. An examination will be made of the wace of the baker who made the pie. THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS CLOSED.

The public schools were closed yesterday for the summer vacation, which will last until September 5. In many of the schools a reception was given in the morning to the parents of the scholars. The teachers looked happy as they received in advance their monthly pay for July and August. Arrangements have been made by the Board of Education to have mechanics in the schools next week to make needed repairs. At the last meeting of the Board $68,515 was appropriated for repairs and alterations.

The average daily attendance in the schools for the last year was 133,096, an increase of 4,000 over the preceding year.

THE GUTTENBERG MURDER CASE.

THE GUTTENBERG MURDER CASE.

New interest has been aroused in the Guttenberg murder case by the publication of a letter which asserts the innocence of the man now in prison awaiting trial, and places the guilt upon an unnamed man, who is spoken of by the water as "my comrade." The letter is written in German, dated at Paris, June 16, and addressed to the editor of The New-York Staats Zeitung, in which paper it was printed yesterday.

The letter bears no signature. The writer professes to send it out of pity for Kettler, who is wrongfully accused, and expresses the hope that it may be of use in court. The murderer is said to be a comrade whom the writer met a few months ago. They planned to return to Europe and his comrade told him he was in love with Mina Muller, who had left her husband, and intended to take her with him to Germany. Later he said that Mina had fallen in love with a Frenchman, Kettler, and was thinking of going with Kettler to Germany. He coupled the statement with a threat to "smash her head" before he left America. Four days before sailing the two comrades met Mrs. Muller, in company with Kettler, in a tavern. Two days afterward the comrade came late to an appointment, "very pale and full of anxiety" and asked when the ship would leave port, and was told on the morrow. He then said that he had punished Mina Muller for her faithlessness to him. At sea he said he had knocked her on the head. In Paris they secured a New-York newspaper and read an account of the murder, after which the comrade remarked that he knew that either Mr. Muller, the husband, or Kettler would be charged with the murder, the latter especially, as he had packed her dresses, etc., in expectation of the voyage to Germany. Two days later the comrade went to Belgium, and they separated after agreeing not to divulge each other's names.

Messrs, Capiton and Baremore voting in the negative. Mr. Carlton also moved that orders on the Controller be issued to employes and other small creditors of the city. SEQUEL TO A CLERICAL SCANDAL.

A scandal which has occupied the attention of the Evangelical Church at Woodhaven, L. I., and which was the subject of ecclesiastical investigation some time ago, was followed Thursday by an arrest for assault. The Rev. C. D. Heinrich, formerly in charge of the church, was arrested at the instance of Mr. Crippendorf and taken before Justice Betts, of Jamaica, for examination. Mr. Heinrich attacked Crippendorf with a shovel and Crippendorf discharged a pistol at his antagonist. NEW METHOD OF GIVING BONDS.

COMMENTS ON THE LAW AUTHORIZING CORPORA-TIONS TO BECOME SECURITY FOR FAITHFUL

PERFORMANCE OF DUTY.

A law was signed by Governor Cornell June A law was signed by Governor Content states 13 which, if it is as successful in its operation as its promoters anticipate, promises to effect a revolution in the methods of giving bonds or furnishing security. The many embarrassing and often disastrous circumstances connected with the present method of giving security, either for the faithful performance of trusts or as col-lateral security in judicial or business proceedings, have led to many complaints and to a few attempts to correct ted to many complaints and to a few attempts to correct these evils. The present system frequently operates badly for the trustee as well as for the surety. In the first place, it is often very difficult for worthy persons, when appointed administrators or receivers or to any similar places of trust, to obtain friends both able and willing to go upon their bonds. It is, at the best, an em-barrassing and somewhat distressing thing for a man to go about among his acquaintances with the request. These acquaintances, even when able necessitivity to be go about among his acquaintances with the request. These acquaintances, even when able pecuniarily to become sureties, often consent with great reluctance, or refuse outright. They have all of them seen too many instances in which the sureties have been called upon to pay, even where the trustee has had good intentions and was an honest man. Then, too, it happens that the persons whose interests are supposed to be secured by the undertakings or bonds find, when the emergency comes, that the sureties are not responsible persons, and their interests are destroyed without power of redress.

The remedy provided for by the new bill is to be afforded by substituting organized companies with large capital in the place of individuals as sureties, and by authorizing them to guarantee the fidelity of the persons holding positions of private or public trust. It is said that in England such bonds have been for many years that in England such bonds have been for many years received in preference to the bonds of private persons, so that an individual bond is now rarely given. But this is the first time in the history of the United States where a Legislature has authorized the courts to accept corporate bonds in proceedings before them. This present law pro-vides that: "Whenever any person, who now or hereafter may be required or permitted by law to make, exe-cute or give a bond or undertaking with security condi-tioned for the faithful performance of any duty or for the doing or not doing of anything in said bond or undertaking specified, any head of department, surrogate, judge, sheriff, district-attorney, or any other officer who is now or shall hereafter be required to approve the sufficiency of any such bond or undertaking, may, in the discretion of such officer, each such bond or undertaking. descretion of such officer, accept such bond or undertakdiscretion of such officer, accept such bond or undertaking and approve the same whenever the conditions of such bond or undertaking are guaranteed by a company duly organized or authorized to do business under the laws of this State, and authorized to guarantee the fidelity of persons holding positions of public or private trust, and all such corporations are hereby vested with full power and authority to guarantee such bonds and undertakings; but this act shall not prevent a justification on the part of such company through its officers as shall exceed its assets. When its liabilities exceed its assets the Superintendent of the Insurance Department is to require, the deficiency to be paid up within sixty days; and if it is not so paid up he is to publish the fact in the State paper, and the company is to do no more business under the act until the deficiency is supplied. The act does not apply to bonds in criminal cases.

The law has caused a good deal of comment among judges, lawyers and others; some of which is favorable, and some not. Surrogate Calvin says he thinks the plan is a good one, if it be once established in such a form that there shall be no doubt about the financial condition of the company seeking to act under this law. But the difficulty will be that questions will constantly be arising as to the relative amounts of its assets and its liabilities, and as to the possibility of its suddenly becoming insolvent or nnable to act under the law. This would necessarily require judicial investigation, and the inquiry might often be too expensive, even if satisfactory.

Judge Van Hoesen, in the Court of Common Pleas, Chambers, June 26 received an application for the approval of a bond of this sit, guaranteed by the only company that has yet been organized for this purpose, namely, the Fidelity and Casnalty Company, This undertaking was filled up in the ordinary way with sureties, and apon it was an indorsement signed by William M. Richards, the president of the company, guaranteeing the performance of the undertaking. Judge Van Hoesen said that from the first reading of the law he had supposed that it was intended that the company individual sureties. He thought that the execution of the plan in the form proposed in this application might result badly, because the person seeking remedy from the bond or undertaking would have to look first to the sureties as usual, and afterward to the company. This was, however, matter for future determination, and it was likely that many other questions would arise over the construction of the plan in the

HELD ON TWO INDICTMENTS.

Bertha Heyman, or Hyman, of whose exploits as a "confidence woman," mention has several times been made in THE TRIBUNE, was arraigned before Recorder Smyth Thursday and committed by him to the Tombs in default of bail. The warrant for her arrest vas issued while she was on trial in Staten Island for which she was on trial in Staten Island for stealing a watch-from a widow named Schlarbaum, with whom she lived last winter, and was served upon her the moment she was acquitted of the charge of larceny. She will answer before the Court of General Sessions to two indictments for obtaining money under false pretences, the complainants being respectively Charles Brandt, of No. 32 Oliver-st., and Theodore W. Morris, of Freehold, N. J.
